

WESTLAKE SEARCH

I am representing a client in their search for a Regional Manager for Business Development. This will be an exciting opportunity to grow in the IT space and earn up to double your salary for your achievements.

The company, Westlake Internet Training, was founded in 1995 with the headquarters in Washington, DC and currently offices in 3 other locations serving clients in 40 states and 10 countries. Westlake provides courses and certificate programs in all aspects of web development from beginning HTML to leading Enterprise technologies such as Java (J2EE).

This position will offer growth potential and a good training environment. The right individual will have 1-3 years experience in a service sales environment, preferably some in a technical training arena, familiarity with web technologies and languages and a desire to sell. Great working environment.
